

Thunder

Is that thunder, that I hear?
Off in the distance, loud and clear;
the sound of a storm, is drawing near,
the thunder of horse hooves, just above the crowd's cheer!
There's nothing like the races to bring excitement so dear,
as the thoroughbreds coming around the tier;
then to the homestretch, where we'll celebrate our win of the year!
The Kentucky Derby, the grandest of races, and it's held right here, in the Bluegrass State!
The run for the Rose's is the Best of them all, because there's nothing quite like it to bring us to tears!
